

Healthy Areas Program

2023-02-12

: the introduction

Health care in Syria, through its preventive, therapeutic and promotional activities, has achieved distinctive health gains for society. Since its establishment, this system has focused on providing highly effective health services at low cost and with direct economic and social returns. The successes achieved by the health care system are explained by the clear progress in the basic health indicators that have reached good rates

:Definition of health zone (according to Regulatory Resolution 8/T 2017)

A geographically and administratively defined population cluster in accordance with the administrative divisions of the regions in the governorate and with the boundaries of the municipalities in the governorate centers and major cities, whenever possible. When determining it, the population census, the availability of service and development institutions, administrative and organizational structures, and the approved health map are taken into account, so that it constitutes the appropriate unit for implementing and developing a basic health services system in accordance with the concept of integrated health care, within the framework of family and community health, and achieving an effective level of management and supervision, as part of . the tasks of the Health Directorate in this field

The most important title for the development and spread of health services in Syria is the good extension of health centers in all governorates, as the number of invested centers in Syria reached 1783 health centers affiliated with the Ministry of Health until 2021 AD, all of which work to provide primary health care services, especially maternal care and family planning, child care and vaccination, environmental health and combating endemic and contagious diseases, detecting and treating diseases, health education and community participation, oral care, monitoring nutritional status, caring for adolescents and the elderly, and monitoring laboratory services to provide medicines according to the list of essential medicines. In addition to targeting groups with special needs through home visits and areas with special needs such as the desert, border areas and neighborhoods around cities, with the aim of improving and
 .developing health services provided to these groups and areas

:General objective

Contributing to the development of the health system in the Syrian Arab Republic by activating
 .the work of health regions and centers and improving the quality of services provided therein

:Specific objectives

.Implementation of the integrated health zone system
 Providing health services to all members of society through health centers, specialized clinics,
 .mobile teams, and mobile clinics
 Providing distinguished and high-quality health services at the level of primary health care
 .programs
 .Meeting the health needs of the local community through a home visit system

:Business strategies

- .Securing political support and commitment to work according to the programme
- Drawing a health map for the distribution of health centers in the governorates, determining the needs for fixed health centers, mobile teams, and mobile clinics,
 .and updating it continuously
- Increasing the number of beneficiaries of health care services by introducing the health services provided and raising the level of health awareness of citizens by learning about health care programs, and enhancing trust between the center and the beneficiaries of those services

- Improving access to health services (fixed centers — mobile clinics)
- Disseminating the concept of quality control and total quality management among employees at all levels
- Activating the supervision, follow-up and evaluation system
- Developing the administrative skills of those in charge of work at all levels
- Determine the needs for human cadres and follow up on securing and distributing them in health centers within the health region according to need (doctors - nurses - technicians - specialists) in cooperation and coordination with the rest of the technical directorates affiliated with the ministry to secure the various human resources working in health centers
- Identifying the needs for basic equipment and contributing to securing them - Enhancing coordination, cooperation and integration with various public and - private sectors, developing community participation and improving healthy self-care behaviour for families in the local community
- Follow up on securing the electronic information system -